Caring for the Older Farmstead

Do you own an older farmstead? Proper maintenance can help save you time and money in the long run. In this program offered by Clemson Extension agents, we will talk about three common areas of concern and offer some solutions. There will also be a chance to discuss other challenges with class participants.

In this program, we will discuss:

- Managing erosion
- Fence maintenance and repair
- Septic system maintenance and repair

This is a free workshop with course materials and light refreshments provided. RSVP by March 7 to reserve your spot!
